

Pastor Brinson Barker

Associate Pastor

Brinson was born in Valdosta and grew up attending New Covenant Church. After he graduated from Valdosta High School in 1993, he attended Georgia Southern University before sensing a call for fulltime ministry. Brinson served as a Youth Pastor in Lakeland, Georgia, for over a year, and then he left for Rhema Bible Training Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He graduated in 1998 from Rhema and returned to Valdosta. Back in Valdosta, he met his wife Lori, who also grew up at New Covenant Church. Shortly after they married, he went to Lake City, Florida, to serve as an Associate Pastor/ Youth Pastor at Christian Heritage Church. In 2005, Brinson felt the Lord leading them back to Valdosta to work with FutureNow, a school evangelistic ministry. At Future Now, Brinson was a church and community liaison for each city and event. In 2008, Brinson joined the staff at New Covenant Church as an Associate Pastor. His primary role is Outreach, overseeing Evangelism, Foreign Missions, Discipleship and Young Adults.

Brinson and Lori have three children, Elijah, Asher, and Seth.